1 HOUSTON, TEXAS; THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 2021; 8:48 A.M.

2 THE COURT: All right. Good morning. We're here
3 in the Griddy Energy case. It is Case 21-30923.

4 We also are here on a related adversary
5 proceeding, which is Khoury versus Griddy, 21-3041.

6 Appearances have been made electronically. If 7 there's anyone that wishes to appear that hasn't yet made an 8 electronic appearance, let me ask you to go onto our 9 website, get that done this morning, but we'll go ahead and 10 proceed with the hearing.

11 I think what we'll do is start this morning with 12 a report -- a status report from Debtor's counsel and they 13 can then let us know where we are. So if I can get lead 14 counsel for Debtor, who wants to give us that status report 15 to please press five star on your phone.

16 MS. SPIGEL: Good morning. Robin Spiegel, Baker
17 Botts, counsel for the Debtor. Thank you for your time 18 today, we appreciate it. There are three items on the 19 agenda today: the Debtor's Motion to conditionally approve 20 its Disclosure Statement for its proposed Second Amended
21 Plan, and the approval of the voting and other confirmation
22 procedures. There's a motion -- there's the Debtor's Motion
23 to Quash and for a protection order and a motion for entry 24 of an order authorizing ordinary course professionals.

25 Related to the -- just a quick update, since we

1 were here last, which was on April 1st, regarding the 2 appointment of a committee, the US Trustee appointed 3 unsecured creditors' committee late on March 31st and as 4 Your Honor know, three former customers were appointed to 5 the Committee.

6 On April 6th, the Committee hired McDermott Will 7 and Emery as their counsel.

8 And on April 16th, the Debtor learned that the 9 company had also hired a financial advisor, Province. Those 10 retention applications are filed on April 26th.

11 On April 8th, the Debtor had sent the proposed 12 former customer Bar Date Order and related notice that we 13 had fully negotiated with the Attorney General's Office to 14 the Committee. We haven't received full comments yet from 15 the Committee but we hope to be in a position to submit that 16 Order to the Court next week. I suppose if we can't resolve 17 all issues that we have we can put it on for hearing but I'm 18 hopeful that we can get to a consensual place.

19 There have been a bunch of second day motions
20 that we have consensually resolved with parties-in-interest 21 including the Committee and the U.S. Trustee and those 22 Orders have been entered.

23 Unless Your Honor has any questions related to 24 what I've just talked about, I can move on to the first item 25 on the agenda.

1 THE COURT: I'll see if anybody else wants to 2 make any kind of an opening status report as well and then 3 we'll come back to you for the first item on the agenda.

4 From 214-295-8063, who do we have on the phone?

5 MR. GIBBS: Your Honor, good morning.

6 This is Chuck Gibbs from McDermott Will and 7 Emery. With me is my partner, Darren Azman. I wasn't 8 necessarily raising my hand to speak with respect to your 9 request for status updates, but just to make sure my line 10 was open as we moved into the agenda, but I'm happy to 11 address any questions the Court might have at this time with 12 me.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Gibbs, thank you and good morning 14 to you.

15 MR. GIBBS: Good morning.

16 THE COURT: Is there anyone that wishes to make 17 any sort of status report? Otherwise I'll go back and let 18 Ms. Spiegel move through her agenda.

19 (No verbal response.)

20 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Spiegel?

21 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you, Your Honor. The first 22 item on the agenda is the Debtor's Disclosure Statement 23 Motion. That's at Docket No. 24. The Debtor originally 24 filed a proposed plan and related disclosure statement on 25 the petition date, which is March 15th. Those documents can

1 be found at Docket No. 22 and 23.

2 On April 19th, an amended plan and disclosure
3 statement was filed with the Court that among other things 4 contained additional compromise and settlements related to 5 former customers. Those documents can be found at Docket
6 Nos. 175 and 176.

7 On April 27th, the Debtor filed a further amended 8 plan and related disclosure statement that attempted to 9 address certain of the objections that were filed by the 10 Committee and ERCOT to the Disclosure Statement. Redlines 11 marked against both the April 27th Disclosure Statement and 12 Plan as well as the original Plan were filed with the Court 13 on April 27th and those can be found at Docket No. 213 for 14 the Disclosure Statement and 212 for the Plan.

15 With respect to the Disclosure Statement, as I
16 noted, the Creditors' Committee and ERCOT each timely filed
17 objections and Ms. Karen Prescott, an alleged tort claimant, 18 filed a late objection on the evening of April 26th.

19 I would like to note that the Committee filed a 20 motion to seal related to its objection.

21 The Debtor files a reply to the objection at 22 Docket No. 215 and the Debtor also filed a motion to seal.

23 With respect to the UCC objection, we've 24 stipulated with each other that each of our exhibits can be 25 moved into evidence solely for the purposes of today's

1 hearing. I just want to be clear because (indiscernible)
2 agreed with ERCOT, we are not going to seek to move in the 3 Mr. Fallquist's, the CEO, First Day Declaration that was 4 listed on our -- the Debtor's witness and exhibit list.

5 THE COURT: So let me -- before we get too far, I 6 reviewed those documents and really saw no reason to seal 7 them. I was assuming that the Committee's objection was 8 sealed because it relied on discovery and that discovery 9 might have been a seal kind of an issue rather than really 10 having anything in there that mattered. I don't want to 11 over-seal documents.

12 Mr. Gibbs, is there something that you need 13 sealed? And if, in fact, you've done it for the somewhat 14 procedural reason that I've identified, I want to find out 15 from I guess whoever produced the documents, which I would 16 assume would be the Debtor, whether there's a reason, in 17 fact, to seal your objection.

18 MR. GIBBS: Thank you, Your Honor. Again for the 19 Record, Chuck Gibbs with McDermott Will and Emery, counsel
20 for -- proposed counsel for the Official Unsecured 21 Creditors' Committee. We filed that Motion for Seal for 22 exactly the reason you articulated. It was because 23 information -- that certain of the information in our 24 Objection and in the exhibits were provided to us by the 25 Debtor pursuant to a protective order that's been discussed

1 and also provided to us under professional eyes only.

2 THE COURT: Right.

3 MR. GIBBS: So we didn't want to be in violation 4 of any agreements or any court order to that effect.

5 And there are a couple of either emails or 6 documents that were contained within the exhibits that had 7 potential information regarding valuation of certain of the 8 Debtor's assets that we thought may not be in the best 9 interest of the Debtor and its creditors to have in the 10 public domain should those assets be later marketed for 11 sale, for that reason only.

12 THE COURT: So I actually looked at the unsealed
13 version and I haven't looked to see what all you did seal.

14 Where is the sealed document filed? And I just 15 want to be sure we're not over-sealing? I don't want -- 16 nothing in your Objection raises --

17 MR. GIBBS: Your Honor, if I could --

18 THE COURT: -- anything of that nature and I'm 19 concerned people will think that we're sealing something 20 because it's got some major hidden secrets and that's just 21 not what's going on here and I want to be as open as we can 22 about the case so.

23 MR. GIBBS: We agree with that. And I'm 24 scrambling to find the docket number for the sealed version 25 and I'll ask either my partner, Darren Azman, or my

1 colleague, Darren Yang (phonetic), to chime in with the 2 Court's permission to provide that information at this time.

3 THE COURT: That'd be great if one of them could 4 tell me what -- or we can come back to this, but what I 5 don't want to do is to over-seal.

6 Ms. Spiegel, other than the few items that 7 Mr. Gibbs is mentioning that might be in the valuation issue
8 in the attachments, for the body of the Objection, was there 9 anything in there that was of great concern to you all? And 10 again, I don't have a problem that people are going through 11 this, tried to produce stuff quickly and so you all have 12 confidentiality agreements. I think I've even approved all 13 those for you. I just don't want to now result in sealing 14 that gives the wrong impressions whatsoever.

15 MS. SPIGEL: There is -- in the body of the 16 Committee's Objection, is that what you were asking about --

17 THE COURT: Yes.

18 MS. SPIGEL: -- in particular?

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. There is some sensitive 21 business information in the objection, but we actually -- 22 the Debtor in our reply didn't -- some of the information 23 that they sealed, we don't have sealed in our reply.

24 THE COURT: You sealed very -- I did find your 25 sealed version and you sealed like three numbers. I didn't

1 have a problem with that in yours. It was more theirs that 2 I didn't really see the redactions on theirs.

3 MS. SPIGEL: Yes.

4 THE COURT: Can I get this -- instead of me
5 signing sealing orders today, which aren't urgent, if can 6 get you all to now look at those documents and file them 7 with as little redaction as you think is appropriate and 8 then let me review those? I don't need to go through that 9 in detail today, Mr. Gibbs, we can proceed with the hearing.

10 MR. GIBBS: Okay.

11 THE COURT: But I'm largely not going to be over-12 sealing is the message I want to give. And again I just had 13 zero problem that in the rush of producing things, people do 14 these confidentiality agreements. They're important to do.
15 You need to respect them. And now I want to try and back 16 off of that a bit and get stuff out in the public record 17 where things look pretty normal in these objections.

18 I'm not saying that there aren't objections that 19 may be very meritorious and I don't want you to read me 20 wrong, Mr. Gibbs, but there's wasn't anything in there that 21 was secret or (indiscernible) or anything of that nature.

22 MR. GIBBS: We agree with that.

23 THE COURT: So let's move ahead then. And I'm 24 sorry to take you all on that diversion but important I 25 think.

1 MS. SPIGEL: And I appreciate it. I do want to 2 say that we appreciate the Committee -- I hear what 3 Your Honor's saying and I just want to say for the Record we 4 appreciate the Committee filing under seal because we did 5 provide it confidentially to them, but we are happy to work
6 with them so that it would be -- we'll just work with them 7 to figure out the minimal amount that we think needs to be 8 unsealed.

9 I will note that there are documents attached to 10 the Committee's witness list that do contain sensitive 11 information, business information that we were going to seal 12 but we can -- we'll work it out with them and then present 13 something to Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 So did you all want to pre-admit exhibits now or 16 do you want to offer them during the course of the hearing?

17 MS. SPIGEL: I'm fine offering --

18 MR. GIBBS: Your Honor, I'd appreciate it if we 19 can admit them now but it's the Debtor's Motion.

20 MS. SPIGEL: That's fine.

21 MR. GIBBS: I will do it any way the Debtor would 22 like, that's fine.

23 THE COURT: Ms. Spiegel?

24 MS. SPIGEL: We could pre-admit them. Yeah,
25 no, we can pre-admit them. I may need my partner,

1 John Lawrence, who's also on the line. I may need him to 2 weigh in. We are only going to admit -- seek to admit two 3 exhibits into evidence.

4 THE COURT: All right. Well, let me get -- is it
5 Mr. Newcomb? Mr. Newcomb I think filed it. Is he the one 6 that's going to know that or someone else?

7 MS. SPIGEL: I think I can do it although 8 Mr. Newcomb can correct me if I do it wrong.

9 (Laughter.)

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Newcomb, why don't you press five 13 star just so that you can come step on Ms. Spiegel's toes if 14 that's appropriate? Get your line activated.

15 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you, Your Honor. Okay.
16 On the witness and exhibit list, we listed as No. 2 the 17 Declaration of Mr. Fallquist in support of our reply, the 18 Debtor's reply and we'd like to offer that into evidence.

19 THE COURT: So 218-2 is offered.

20 And what else are you offering?

21 MS. SPIGEL: We'd like to offer the three-month
22 cash flow, which is 218-3 or No. 3.

23 THE COURT: Is there any objection to 218-2 and 24 218-3 being admitted as substantive evidence at today's 25 hearing?

1 (No verbal response.)

2 THE COURT: All right. 218-2 and 218-3 are each 3 admitted.

4 (Debtor's Exhibit Nos. 218-2 and 218-3 received as 5 evidence.)

6 THE COURT: Do the opposing parties have exhibits
7 that they wish to introduce? And I know this may go beyond
8 the Committee.

9 (No verbal response.)

10 THE COURT: Mr. Gibbs, if you said something, I 11 couldn't hear you.

12 MR. GIBBS: No I did not. I thought you were 13 asking for request for evidence from any other opposing 14 party besides us so I was just --

15 THE COURT: Including you and anyone else is all 16 I was saying so we'll start with you.

17 MR. GIBBS: Okay.

18 THE COURT: What are your exhibits?

19 MR. GIBBS: Okay. Your Honor, our witness and 20 exhibit list was filed at Docket No. 211 and we would offer 21 Exhibits 211-1 through 211-7. And 1 is the Declaration of 22 my partner, Mr. Azman, and 2 through 7 are the exhibits that 23 are attached to Mr. Azman's Declaration.

24 THE COURT: So really what we're admitting is 197
25 with its attachments; is that right?

1 MR. GIBBS: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Any objection to the admission of 197
3 with its attachments?

4 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, I thought that it was 5 Document No. 211.

6 THE COURT: 211 lists them, but it's not the 7 documents themselves. It refers back to 197.

8 MS. SPIGEL: Oh, I'm sorry. I'm sorry. Got it.
9 Thank you.

10 THE COURT: So any objection to admitting 197
11 substantively?

12 And did I get that right, Mr. Gibbs?

13 MR. GIBBS: You did, Your Honor. It's Docket No.
14 197. It's the actual Declaration of Mr. Azman with the 15 exhibits attached. They're just identified on the witness 16 list, which is Document 211.

17 THE COURT: From 212-547-5615, who do we have on 18 the phone?

19 MR. AZMAN: Your Honor, it's Darren Azman from 20 McDermott Will and Emery for the Committee. I had un-muted
21 a few moments ago just to assist Mr. Gibbs in case he needed 22 it, but he got through it just fine.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Azman, he usually needs it so 24 feel free. I'll just leave you on the line.

25 (Laughter.)

1 THE COURT: We'll go ahead and admit 197.

2 (Committee's Exhibit No. 197 received in evidence.)

3 MR. GIBBS: I'll have a running request, 4 Your Honor. Please don't mute Mr. Azman.

5 THE COURT: I'll try and leave him on.

6 MR. GIBBS: Thank you.

7 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Spiegel?

8 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor. Okay.

9 I just want a note related to the sealing, I think parties 10 also have agreed to try and avoid using confidential 11 information today to the extent it's possible. I suppose if 12 something comes up and it becomes necessary, we'll just stop 13 and ask Your Honor exactly how to proceed, but we are going 14 to try to use -- take efforts not to do that.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, just feel free to object as 16 often as you need to to be sure that we appropriately
17 protect stuff. We've got a couple of ways of doing it. One 18 is: we can literally seal and resume to seal the electronic 19 hearing. It's usually easier if the people that are 20 entitled to see the documents open it up on their own
21 computer and then I simply don't broadcast it, but we'll go 22 how you need to go.

23 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor. While 24 we'll get to the objections later in the presentation, we do 25 want to note that just up front that with respect to the

1 ERCOT objection, we have consensually resolved that 2 objection and obviously ERCOT can weigh in when we get to 3 the objections.

4 And we've agreed to revise the proposed timeline
5 to object or estimate to their claim, which again we'll go
6 over when we get to the Disclosure Statement Order but I 7 wanted to just preview that up front.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

9 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you. So, Your Honor, before I
10 get to the substance of the Disclosure Statement, I do want 11 to just talk briefly and put everything in context here. We 12 see this as not a complicated case. We think it's a unique 13 case but that it's not complicated. The Debtor's view is 14 that the winter storm events and extreme pricing destroyed 15 the Debtor's business. Customers didn't pay their bills and 16 ERCOT mass transitioned the Debtor's customers.

17 The Debtor was solvent prior to some point during 18 the winter storm event. During the winter storm event, the 19 Debtor's management actually took the unusual step of trying 20 to get their customers to move off their platform. They 21 tried to do this before the winter event and during winter
22 event. And although the Committee casts unsubstantiated 23 aspersions at the directors and officers, at all times the 24 directors and officers acted in the best interest of the 25 company. And there are no facts, no evidence to the

1 contrary. The Debtor ended up filing this case as a
2 liquidating 11. So once again, tried to do the right thing
3 by all parties including customers because there's been no 4 relief from the legislature or otherwise.

5 The proposed Plan, as I explained on the First 6 Day, is unique. To us, the Plan is about is collective 7 consciousness. The Debtor believes that maximizing value 8 can also include providing relief to customers and that's 9 what the Plan does. If the Plan is confirmed and goes 10 effective, it will be the result of among other things 11 creditors doing the right adjusting under these 12 circumstances.

13 But the Committee has disregarded this collective 14 consciousness and has taken a scorched Earth approach and 15 going to leave the case administratively insolvent. As I've 16 mentioned, they hired a financial advisor on an hourly basis 17 in a case that can ill afford another advisor and frankly we 18 don't think there's anything a financial advisor can do.

19 As stated in our reply, the Committee simply is 20 seeing that (indiscernible) where none exist. We had 21 (indiscernible) that Your Honor wanted a customer committee 22 to be appointed to act as a fiduciary for customers, but 23 instead an unsecured creditors' committee was appointed that 24 has no general unsecured creditors and its numbers are also 25 in their customers. And they're spending down the limited

1 resources of the Estate in name of exercising their 2 fiduciary duties.

3 The Committee says the Debtor hasn't been 4 cooperating, but it has and the facts show otherwise. More 5 than 2,000 documents and more than 7,000 pages have been 6 produced and the Committee apparently is now going to seek 7 discovery on all the directors and officers and the Debtor's 8 non-debtor affiliates. And at least with respect to the 9 directors and officers, those parties are going to have 10 indemnification claims against the Estate, which will 11 further burn the Estate assets.

12 The Committee asked us for a three-month delay of 13 the Disclosure Statement Hearing and then this week asked 14 for a two-week delay and although we'll get to the Motion to 15 Quash made by the Debtor later, the Debtor filed that 16 because it was served with formal Rule 2004 discovery 17 requests and was obligated under Local Rules to file an 18 objection by a date certain.

19 We had thought we had an agreement to enter into 20 a stipulation to try to consensually resolve that Motion, 21 but after the Debtor wouldn't agree to another two-week 22 extension, the Committee decided it wanted to put on for 23 hearing the Motion to Quash rather than try to consensually 24 resolve the matter. We have reached out and told the 25 Committee we are willing to try to resolve it consensually.

1 Certain of the Committee's accusations and 2 unsubstantiated allegations are set out in the chart that's 3 attached to the reply that was filed in support of the 4 Disclosure Statement. That's Mr. Fallquist's declaration 5 that was admitted into evidence.

6 The Debtor also included a cash flow budget with 7 the reply so that the Court and parties-in-interest could 8 understand just how limited the Estate resources are and the 9 need to have confirmation on the timeline that's proposed.

10 We believe that the Committee should not be 11 taking a scorched Earth litigation path that's here when 12 there's we believe no claim and there's no money to be had 13 in this case. The case benefits from doing this on the 14 timeline proposed and to the extent that we don't -- there's 15 not massive litigation against Macquarie in particular, then 16 every dollar that's not spent on litigation will come back 17 to the Estate because they are, we believe, significantly 18 oversecured.

19 You would think that this case is simple. It's 20 about a storm and the extreme pricing and the resulting 21 havoc that was (indiscernible) on the company and its 22 customers and other stakeholders. We think the value that 23 exists is getting as much as the Debtor's remaining cash to 24 general unsecured creditors as soon as possible and to 25 pursue causes of action against third parties related to the 1 storm events.

2 With respect to the Disclosure Statement, we 3 filed that on the first day of the case, March 15th. The 4 proposed Amended Plan is a liquidating plan and reflects the 5 embodiment of numerous proposed settlements and compromises 6 each of which is integral with respect to one another.

7 The overall purpose of the Plan is to provide for 8 recoveries to the Debtor's creditors in a manner designed to 9 maximize value and balance the harm to customers caused not 10 by the Debtor but by the extreme pricing that occurred 11 during the winter storm event.

12 Specifically under the Plan, the Debtor's secured
13 lender would, for the benefit the Debtor's Estate, forego 14 the approximately $550,000 of the principal base amount that 15 is owed to it by the Debtor. It would agree to receive 16 interest at the non-default contract rate rather than 17 seeking to collect default interest and otherwise would be 18 paid on its allowed claim including reasonable attorney's 19 fees and be entitled to reimbursement of LC if that LC is 20 drawn and if it's not drawn, that money comes back to the 21 Estate assuming that there is a litigation and attorney's 22 fees don't eat into it.

23 The holders of allowed Class 5 customer claims 24 who are the former customers, if they vote in favor of the 25 Plan or abstain from voting, they would be considered

1 participating customers under the Plan.

2 All customers have the opportunity to receive 3 releases from the Debtor and the other release parties for 4 all claims including with respect to their unpaid bills.
5 That would be in exchange for releases by the Debtor -- to 6 the Debtor and the release parties.

7 Although the Debtor doesn't believe that 8 customers are entitled to a refund, right, they're a pass-9 through and we got the money from the customers and paid it
10 to creditors, we did hear from parties-in-interest that sort 11 of the bookend of people being released from their unpaid 12 bills was that people also paid their bills.

13 And so in order to try to bookend the unpaid
14 versus the paid, we have revised the Plan to provide a 15 carve-out to the customer release, so if a customer opts 16 into a customer release -- or doesn't opt out of the 17 customer release, excuse me, they would be entitled to 18 assert a claim so they have to file a claim for the amount 19 that they paid for their electricity consumption during the 20 storm. And the period is defined as February 13 through 21 February 19.

22 If they do that and the claim matches the 23 Debtor's books and records, they would have an allowed claim 24 and they would be entitled to share some causes of action
25 related to the winter storm. So if the Debtor successfully

1 pursues causes of action related to the winter storm, then 2 those parties would be able to share pro rata with other 3 general unsecured creditors with respect to those causes of 4 action.

5 Any former customer that doesn't wish to exchange 6 releases will be considered a non-participating customer and 7 would not be treated as having an allowed Class 5 customer
8 claim. Rather that customer would have a temporarily
9 allowed claim in Class 4, which is the other general 10 unsecured claims, purely for the purposes of voting on the 11 Plan.

12 For all other purposes, if a non-debtor as a non-13 participating customer highly properly filed a unsecured
14 claim, then they would be treated as the holder of the Class 15 4 other general unsecured claim in Class 4. Then other than 16 for purpose of voting on the Plan, any former customer who 17 does not wish to exchange release so the non-participating, 18 but they don't file a proof of claim, then they wouldn't 19 have a claim against the Debtor.

20 With respect to holders of other general 21 unsecured claims, they would receive on a pro rata basis the 22 aggregate amount of available cash that's in the Estate and 23 a net recovery proceeds from any causes of action. As I 24 mentioned, with respect to causes of action related to the 25 winter storm event, they would share pro rata with those

1 customers who have allowed claims for paid amounts.

2 The Debtor would appoint a plan administrator and 3 that plan administrator would act as a fiduciary and have 4 full authority to administer the liquidation and wind-down
5 of the Debtor under the provisions of the Plan.

6 Your Honor, with respect to approval of the 7 Disclosure Statement and the voting procedures, as set forth
8 in our Motion and the Reply, the Disclosure Statement
9 satisfies the requirements of Section 1125 of the Bankruptcy
10 Code. As Your Honor knows, the purpose of the Disclosure 11 Statement is to provide adequate information, that is, 12 information of a kind that has sufficient details to enable 13 a hypothetical reasonable investor to make an informed 14 judgment about the Plan. The Disclosure Statement Hearing 15 is not intended to be a mini confirmation hearing and 16 objections pertaining to the confirmability of the Plan are 17 appropriately left for confirmation.

18 The Motion also seeks to implement standard
19 voting procedures in this district and the Debtor believes 20 will allow voting and both tabulation to proceed in a fair 21 and oddly manner.

22 With respect to former customers, the Debtor 23 ended up scheduling all of the Debtor's former customers as 24 having contingent unliquidated disputed claims in 25 undetermined amounts. The Motion seeks to temporarily allow

1 for former customer claims assuming no proofs of claim have 2 been filed after the voting record date in amounts of a 3 dollar solely for voting purposes. So similar to the 4 original proposed, if there's a contingent unliquidated 5 claim and no proof of -- and the proof of claim hadn't be 6 filed, the temporarily allowance would be counted as a Class
7 5 claim for participating customers and as a Class 4 claim 8 for non-participating customers.

9 As I mentioned the only timely filed objections 10 we received were from the Creditors' Committee and their 11 class. The non-timely filed objection we received the other 12 night was from Ms. Karen Prescott, the alleged tort 13 claimant. We attempted to add language to the Disclosure 14 Statement to address what we believed were the disclosure 15 statement objections, but otherwise we believe the 16 objections are plan confirmation objections and are not ripe 17 for discussion. And as we'll get to, we don't believe any 18 additional disclosure is required in the Disclosure 19 Statement related to tort claimants.

20 On the 27th, we filed redlines of the proposed 21 Second Amended Plan, the related Disclosure Statement and 22 the Disclosure Statement Order including exhibits to the 23 Disclosure Statement Order.

24 Before we get to the objections, if Your Honor 25 would like, I can go through the revisions to the Disclosure

1 Statement, the Plan and the Order just depending on how you 2 would like to proceed.

3 THE COURT: So first of all, I think that the 4 revised Disclosure Statements are a big improvement over 5 what we had and I appreciate the efforts that are being 6 undertaken. I was not able to discern from them with 7 respect -- and I know that the releases have been revised.
8 I could not find the Disclosure Statement on a release party 9 by release party basis -- and I don't mean you have to 10 identify each one and say, "Here it is," but to be sure that 11 you cover them all, why it was in the best interest of the 12 Estate to release them.

13 I think with respect to the officers and 14 directors, the Debtor said, "With respect to the 15 officers" -- and I'm paraphrasing -- "officer and directors, 16 they may have indemnity claims, therefore we're releasing
17 them, gets rid of the indemnity claims. We think that's a 18 good deal." And I don't know that you can name each one by 19 name.

20 But with respect to any other releases, I didn't 21 see any reason given in the Disclosure Statement as to why
22 you were doing those. And I don't think that's a 23 confirmation objection. I think that's an informational 24 objection. Maybe I missed it, but is that fair?

25 MS. SPIGEL: No. Your Honor, I think that in

1 Article 2, Section D of the Disclosure Statement, we have 2 included additional disclosure related to the releases.
3 It's on page 17 of the redline at Document 213-2. With 4 respect to --

5 THE COURT: Here, let me -- hold on, let me get 6 that open.

7 MS. SPIGEL: Oh, absolutely. I'm sorry.

8 THE COURT: 213-2, page 17?

9 MS. SPIGEL: Uh-huh. Yeah.

10 THE COURT: I'm on page 17 of the redline.

11 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. Where it says, "Debtor
12 releases."

13 THE COURT: I'm on page 17 of the ECF.

14 Do you want page 17 of the Disclosure Statement; 15 is that --

16 MS. SPIGEL: I'm sorry, it's Document No. 213-2.

17 THE COURT: I'm at 213-2 and at the top, I'm on 18 page -- let me get there. I think I know where we're 19 supposed to be.

20 MS. SPIGEL: 30 of 80.

21 THE COURT: Yeah, it's 30 of 80. Okay.

22 MR. GIBBS: I think it's 30 of 80.

23 THE COURT: Right, I'm there.

24 So how do I tell how it benefits the Estate to 25 give these releases? I'll give you an example. You say,

1 "On the carry-over, third, the Debtor believes --

2 MS. SPIGEL: Yeah.

3 THE COURT: -- that there are no viable claims 4 against its non-debtor affiliates." Let me assume that's 5 right.

6 MS. SPIGEL: Okay.

7 THE COURT: How does it benefit the Debtor to 8 give releases? I understand it benefits the non-debtor
9 affiliates. The Debtor isn't forced to sue the non-debtor 10 affiliates under the Plan. An administrator could choose to 11 sue them. I'm trying to understand why isn't benefit of the 12 Estate to give the releases up front? That's the question.

13 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, the entirety of the Plan 14 is based on a compromise and settlement from an 15 unprecedented crisis. Griddy was specifically targeted by 16 numerous parties (indiscernible) business model on the 17 prices that were charged to pass-throughs to customers.
18 Griddy has no control over that. But Griddy -- the entirety 19 of the company has become a target for lawsuits.

20 And part of filing this case for chapter 11 is to 21 enable the entirety of Griddy itself and all of its non-22 debtor affiliates, et cetera, to be essentially done with 23 this unprecedented crisis, to do the best that it can under 24 the circumstances and to move forward. And we think that 25 that is a benefit to the Estate because the whole Plan is

1 hinged -- and parcel of that is all of these settlements and 2 compromises embodied in the Plan that includes having --

3 THE COURT: I don't understand how giving -- how 4 the non-debtor affiliates -- there's a -- first of all, I 5 want to back up for a moment to the Motion to Quash. In the 6 Motion to Quash, I had originally believed that your firm 7 was representing the non-debtor affiliates in that Motion, 8 but then I understand from subsequent filings that your firm 9 is not representing the non-debtor affiliates.

10 Here, I understand why it's in the interest of 11 the non-debtor affiliates, I even understand why you all 12 think this is just a good idea for the country and I don't 13 even want to question that as I've got it. I mean, I still 14 need to know and voters need to know why it is in the best 15 interest of the Estate to release non-debtor affiliates.
16 The non-debtor affiliates don't have any claim, I don't 17 think, against the Estate. Why does it benefit the Estate 18 to release them?

19 MS. SPIGEL: First of all, I just want to clear 20 up the Record. We do represent certain non-debtor
21 affiliates. We represent the parents and the indirect
22 parents of Griddy Energy. We also, for the limited purposes 23 of accepting discovery from the Committee, we represent 24 Griddy Technologies and Griddy Pro.

25 THE COURT: So let me tell you what I had

1 understood. And if I understood this wrong, just fix it.
2 In your disclosure, you tell you represent those entities,
3 but I assumed that you did not represent them in any manner 4 that might be adverse to the Estate itself because you also 5 say you were disinterested.

6 MS. SPIGEL: Right.

7 THE COURT: So, yeah, representing them didn't 8 bother me. You'll notice I signed your Employment Order 9 last night and I think I read that right, but to the extent
10 that there would be a lack of disinterest, I don't think you 11 could or are purporting to represent them.

12 MS. SPIGEL: Right.

13 THE COURT: So I need to know from the Estate's 14 point of view not from the non-debtor affiliates' point of 15 view, what is the benefit to the Estate? And I think that 16 is informational. I don't -- if the answer is there is no
17 benefit to the Estate, we think it's the right thing to do, 18 I'm actually okay with that answer and people can vote on 19 it. But I think you need to say up front everything you're 20 going to say about why these releases are granted and if 21 that includes a truthful statement that says, "There is no 22 benefit to the Estate of releasing the non-debtor 23 affiliates, the Defendant nevertheless believes it is the 24 ethical, moral and correct thing to do and we ask you to do 25 it," I think that is fair informationally. That may turn

1 out to not be something I can confirm and maybe it is 2 something I can confirm.

3 And you'll recall at the last hearing -- and I'm 4 looking at Mr. Jordan -- I said, "I don't even understand 5 how you can sue these people." And now he's filed something 6 that talks about delivery of electricity. Your client 7 doesn't deliver electricity, prohibited by law from 8 delivering electricity. I'm not so sure what all these 9 lawsuit are about, but I'm also not this roving master in 10 equity that can kind of reach out into Texas and say, "I'm 11 going to have everybody behave." And that's why I need this 12 to be really clear.

13 MS. SPIGEL: Well, Your Honor, look I do think it 14 is the right thing to do under the circumstances of this 15 case. I think that as part of the proposal for the entirety
16 of the Plan that it benefits the Estate is part and parcel 17 of it. We filed a (indiscernible) 11 to try to alleviate 18 the issues related to the storm for as many people as we 19 could and that -- and we think that that is beneficial to 20 the Estate.

21 THE COURT: How is it beneficial -- I understand 22 your argument it's the right thing to do and I really don't 23 want -- you may be wrong that or you might be right about 24 that, but it's certainly a fair argument that it's the right 25 thing to do. I don't still understand how that benefits the

1 Estate. And if the answer is "It doesn't," then this needs
2 to say that so that when whatever we do gets appealed, if it
3 turns out I say, "I'm going to authorize this people" -- I
4 don't know the law for sure. It may be that people can vote 5 for giving these releases and that you make some deal where 6 the Committee gets another X dollars and they say, "That's 7 fine, we're okay giving those releases." It may be that 8 having said, "There's no benefit to the Estate," makes you 9 lose on appeal even if you can convince me it's the right
10 thing to do, and I'm not discounting that you might convince 11 me of that, but it has to be there, it has to be there 12 informationally.

13 I'm going to actually -- you're hearing my point
14 and you're being very responsive to my point and I
15 appreciate that. I probably ought to let Mr. Gibbs fight 16 his own battles for a minute before we go much further, but 17 I think I've identified them and I'm sympathetic to what 18 he's saying. I don't know that I'm sympathetic that these 19 folks should never get releases because, Mr. Gibbs, you 20 might negotiate something where you agree to give them
21 releases.

22 MR. GIBBS: Your Honor, I think you're exactly 23 right, that very well could be resolution at the conclusion
24 of our investigation. I think that counsel for the Debtor 25 is struggling to answer your question because the simple

1 answer is: it is not in the Debtor's best interest to give 2 non-debtor affiliates releases for no consideration. And 3 I'm fine with them saying that, but -- and if they want to 4 say it's the right thing to do and it's part of a grand plan 5 and one part all meshes with -- each part meshes with the 6 other, that's their argument and we'll fit that battle if we 7 choose to at confirmation.

8 But from an informational standpoint, I
9 completely agree with the Judge -- with Your Honor that it 10 isn't adequate to just put in the additional paragraph that 11 they put in in 213-2. It's part and parcel of kind of a 12 larger issue regarding the proposed releases and it's 13 probably best to wait until counsel for the Debtor finish
14 their remarks in support of their Motion.

15 THE COURT: But if, in fact, they include -- and 16 they need to think about this. I don't -- I'm not going to 17 make Ms. Spigel tell me precisely what language she's going 18 to include, but if she were to agree with me and include the 19 language I just said, would that then satisfy your 20 disclosure objection?

21 MR. GIBBS: It's a hard question to answer 22 because they -- I think it would partially satisfy our 23 disclosure objection in that it would put on the Record what 24 they believe is the support for what they're proposing in 25 the Plan.

1 What we don't think should happen is the 2 Disclosure Statement go out before we have an opportunity to 3 complete our analysis of whether or not valuable causes of 4 action against the non-debtor affiliates exists and what -- 5 and that the Disclosure Statement should also include at 6 least our assessment of the potential value of those 7 recoveries so that customers and creditors, especially the 8 customers who are the benefits of the proposed release if 9 they vote in favor of the Plan or don't vote at all so that 10 they know more intelligently what they're giving up in 11 exchange for getting the releases being honored.

12 THE COURT: And is that really two weeks for you 13 to understand that and have your statement ready?

14 MR. GIBBS: It's slightly longer than that, 15 Your Honor, and I don't mean to cut the Debtor off in their 16 arguments and support, but they did tell the Court that we 17 asked for 12 weeks. We did and it's probably not shocking 18 to the Court that the Committee's first proposal is more 19 than they thought they needed. That's sort of the essence 20 of negotiation.

21 We did come back to them last week with a 22 proposal for a two-week standstill and it wasn't so that we 23 would just need to two weeks, we wanted two weeks to try to 24 see if we could negotiate global resolutions of all 25 objections to the Plan and if we couldn't, then we'd resume.

1 So it wasn't that we asked for 12 and then we asked for two.
2 I can tell Your Honor that the answer was the same "No," 3 that they insist on going forward on their timeline, which 4 is why we're here today. We think --

5 THE COURT: Yeah, I'm not terribly worried about 6 promoting a deal. You all can have a deal, not have a deal.

7 MR. GIBBS: Yeah.

8 THE COURT: I'm worried about getting the 9 information --

10 MR. GIBBS: Yeah. And I'll

11 THE COURT: Look here's what I've told people 12 before and let me just say it here. I'm going to allow the 13 Committee to communicate with its constituents what it
14 thinks is wrong with the Plan and I've allowed them to do 15 that based on adequate information provided to the 16 Committee. It is ordinarily much cheaper to include a 17 statement in the Disclosure Statement that says, "Enclosed 18 with this Disclosure Statement packet is an informational 19 statement by the Committee that sets forth its position.
20 The Debtors disagree with it," but it's enclosed and it's in 21 the same mailing packet. It's a lot cheaper.

22 MR. GIBBS: Yep.

23 THE COURT: However if we approve the Disclosure
24 Statement and the Debtor -- and the Committee -- I'll say 25 three weeks from now so that I'm not taking sides in the

1 two-week battle -- three weeks from now has a statement it
2 wants to transmit, it gets to transmit it and the Debtor 3 gets to pay for it.

4 So what I would suggest the parties think about 5 is that we get this Disclosure Statement in a position to 6 approve it in the next few days where it is then held before 7 it is circulated for an agreed period of time so that the 8 Committee can include its statement. I'm not going to 9 require that. I think once the Disclosure Statement gets in 10 order, the Debtor has the right to send it out without a 11 statement by the Committee. I will not require the Debtor 12 to include the Committee's statement, but I will require the 13 Debtor to pay for it when the Debtor -- when the Committee 14 (indiscernible) on its own. That's an administrative 15 expense of the Estate.

16 And I have expressed before that I have seen 17 activities by this Debtor that show a lot of good faith.
18 Their communications with their customers as we went into 19 the crisis do show good things about -- when I've said that 20 at a prior hearing -- and I will accept at face value that 21 the reason that the Debtor wants to rush is a good one 22 because it's cheaper to rush. That may though need to give 23 way to slight delays to be sure that the Committee can get 24 don't what it needs to get done.

25 So, Ms. Spigel, we'll go back to you, but I

1 wanted you to know where I am right now on that.

2 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, just related to the 3 Committee's statement, if Your Honor's inclined to allow 4 them to have a solicitation letter that's separate from the 5 Disclosure Statement, we think that that is -- unduly 6 prejudices the Debtor's solicitation. We think that if they 7 had a statement, we could add it into the Disclosure 8 Statement itself and that we would -- they could have their 9 position, we can have our position. But having a separate 10 negative solicitation frankly I think that unduly 11 prejudices. And if you're inclined to just have the 12 separate letter, then I think the Debtor should be able to 13 include its own separate letter as to why the Plan should be 14 confirmed.

15 THE COURT: So look, the way that I read the case 16 law on this -- and Century Love is the leading case on this.
17 I think -- that's old memory, but that's my memory.

18 MR. GIBBS: Yes.

19 THE COURT: I not only -- I can't control what 20 the Committee does. The Committee is free to do what it 21 wants. If it chooses to send a letter, I have no regulatory 22 authority over what the Committee does. However, I've got 23 purse string control and if they don't get to include it in 24 your packet, obviously I'm going to make you pay for it as 25 an administrative expense when they include it separately.

1 On the other hand, if you're offering to include it in the 2 packet and they refuse, I may not find it's a reasonable 3 expense.

4 So I can't control their words. They're free to 5 communicate to their constituency and I have no regulatory 6 authority over their words. You have a remedy that if they 7 communicate information in bad faith to their constituency 8 of designating all of those votes. But it isn't -- sort of 9 under First Amendment language, I don't get to pre-censor
10 whatever the Committee gets to do. I only get to pre-censor 11 what you get to do and that's because of the way 1125 works.

12 But I would give them -- I would give you an 13 opportunity to amend this to give your position as to why 14 these things are necessary and then to reference that there
15 is an attached committee statement. If you want to add 16 other things from the Debtor in the packet, that is subject 17 to the disclosure statement requirements and we have to 18 approve it. Doesn't strike me there's anything wrong with 19 that. If you each want to have whatever this is, an 80-page 20 disclosure statement, and each of you want to have a three-21 page letter that goes with it, I don't have a problem with 22 doing that.

23 And I'm not going to give them 12 weeks to do it, 24 but I'm going to give him some time to get his letter to you
25 in a form where you can, A, respond to it and, B, include it

1 and we don't have a huge amount of delay. But I don't think 2 I can tell them they can't do it.

3 MS. SPIGEL: If I can just ask --

4 THE COURT: I think I have no authority to tell 5 them they can't do it in advance, right?

6 MS. SPIGEL: I'm sorry, can you repeat that?

7 THE COURT: I don't think I have any authority to 8 tell Mr. Gibbs' client, the Committee, that they cannot 9 communicate with their constituents or that I can -- I also 10 don't think I have any authority to regulate the content of 11 their communication in advance. I have the authority to say 12 that their communication will inappropriate in retrospect 13 and therefore I'll designate votes on account of it, but 14 under the case law, I think that's the limit of my 15 authority. And I'm happy for people to tell me I'm wrong 16 about that.

17 MS. SPIGEL: It is my understanding, Your Honor, 18 that in order for a committee -- not only the Debtor, but in 19 order for the Committee to influence solicitation related 20 material as opposed to just communicating with their 21 constituents that that, in fact, was subject to your 22 approval. It's one thing to --

23 THE COURT: So I probably need to be educated 24 about that then because that's not what I thought. First of 25 all, I don't think that I can force you to include their

1 letter in your packet. You're telling me you want to do
2 that, which is fine with me. But once you said that -- 3 here's what I think -- the way I think the law works and I'm 4 going to give you a chance to prove to me I'm wrong. Until 5 the Disclosure Statement is sent out, no one can solicit 6 votes.

7 After it's sent out, people can solicit votes and 8 I don't regulate those communications other than through a 9 designation procedure. And if you believe the law is 10 different than that and that I can regulate the content of 11 committee communications, that is wholly different than my 12 belief and my belief may be wholly wrong and I'm willing to 13 let you convince me of that.

14 MS. SPIGEL: I was talking about in connection 15 with including information in the Disclosure Statement. I 16 certainly think that to the extent that we can come to 17 agreement -- I don't agree with their language, but to the 18 extent we can come to agreement on language to be included 19 in the Disclosure Statement that would be subject to your 20 approval, that is what I was talking about.

21 THE COURT: No, I agree with that. I completely 22 agree with that. But I wasn't -- he's not ready with the 23 language yet. I'm trying to get you an approved disclosure 24 statement in the next few days and that -- the easiest way 25 to do that is to simply have an attachment. If you want to

1 wait until he gets it and then include it in the body of it, 2 that probably would -- I don't know if that works for 3 Mr. Gibbs or not, but I might. You're correct, I can't 4 force you to include anything from him in your Disclosure
5 Statement. That is your statement.

6 Mr. Gibbs, do you agree I can't force them to 7 include your position, that's something you'll have to do?

8 MR. GIBBS: I agree with that, Your Honor, it is 9 something that would have to be negotiated. I think that -- 10 well, if I could? Let me spend a minute or two and kind of 11 complete the Record at least as the recap of what's 12 transpired in the five weeks since the case was filed and in 13 the three weeks since the Committee was formed and we were 14 retained.

15 Your Honor heard that the Debtor commenced the 16 case I guess three weeks after the conclusion of the storm 17 that devastated the state and shut Griddy Energy down and 18 they filed the Plan on the first day of the case with their 19 Disclosure Statement.

20 And as you heard counsel for the Debtor
21 reference, the Debtor's Plan proposed to release its primary 22 secured creditor in exchange for an agreement by that 23 creditor to walk away from a fairly small amount of cash, 24 about $550,000 that it held a lien on. This is the same 25 creditor that the Debtor had agreed to give an overreaching

1 adequate protection package on the first day of the case
2 that Your Honor said was wholly unnecessary given the level
3 of security that creditor enjoyed. And it's also the same
4 lender that was paid over 90 percent of its outstanding debt
5 in the three weeks before the storm and the filing. It's 6 also the same lender that the Debtor's CEO used to work for 7 and that holds a debt instrument that gives it a right to 8 convert its debt into an ownership interest in the non-9 debtor parent of the Debtor, which also owns the certain 10 non-debtor entities that own valuable assets.

11 It's the same Plan as Your Honor heard offered 12 all non-debtor affiliates and all D&Os releases of their 13 claims that the Debtor may possess against them for no 14 consideration from any of them.

15 The Plan is structured so if the creditor doesn't 16 vote, the customer doesn't vote or if they vote and don't 17 opt in to the opt-out they get a release and give a release.

18 Your Honor, the Debtor pretty baldly asserts in 19 the omnibus reply to the objection -- it's Docket 215, 20 paragraph 7 -- and I think you've heard almost the same
21 words today from Debtor's counsel. The Plan is a compromise 22 of all matters leading up to the case. Each part of the 23 Plan is part and parcel of the other parts of the Plan and 24 all matters must settle in order for the Plan to work.

25 The Debtor is controlled by officers and

1 directors who also directly or indirectly own the non-debtor
2 affiliates and these D&Os and the other entities are all 3 getting releases in exchange for proposing a plan that 4 affords the releases to customers.

5 This may be a great deal for the customers or it
6 may not, it may be a terrible deal. And the job that I 7 have, as counsel for the Committee, is to find out and 8 that's all we're trying to do. We are trying to do a rapid 9 but thorough investigation of the Debtor's operations as 10 well as the business of the non-debtor affiliates and the 11 actions of the D&Os to try to assess and evaluate the merits 12 if any of the causes of action that might exist against 13 these release parties in order to try to quantify the amount 14 of potential recovery that the customers would be giving up 15 in exchange for getting a release of debts that they owe to 16 the Debtor.

17 In attempting to do our job, we've been 18 castigated and vilified frankly by the Debtor in every 19 conversation we've had with them, pretty much every email
20 we've received from them and every pleading that they filed 21 now in response to our objection and at least three times I 22 think today been accused to employing a scorched Earth
23 litigation strategy. We're simply trying to do our job.

24 The Committee was appointed by the Trustee, 25 consists of three former customers and they took seriously

1 their fiduciary duty to represent all creditors including 2 the other 27,000 former customers and they've asked us to 3 take a look at what causes of action may exist and that's 4 what we're trying to do.

5 The Debtor would clearly prefer that there is no 6 inquiry or no examination be done. They pushed the Plan for 7 vote immediately before we've had a chance to do our job and 8 they'd like the Court to conclude that because they've 9 included a couple of paragraphs in the Amended Disclosure 10 Statement saying in a real conclusory fashion that they 11 don't believe causes of action against these (indiscernible)
12 parties exist that their Disclosure Statement obligations
13 have been satisfied and that the Plan should be sent out.
14 They decided that they know what's best for their former 15 customers and they want to entertain no conversation on any 16 alternatives to the Plan or the proposed timeline.

17 Case in point, Your Honor. Well, we've indicated 18 to the Debtor that we think a potential claim against the 19 secured lender for marshaling exist and needs to be 20 investigated. Their response is "No, you don't need to 21 investigate that." And then they went so far as to point 22 out in their omnibus reply -- I think it's in paragraph 23 32 -- that the guarantees executed by the non-debtor 24 affiliates waive marshaling.

25 Well, they forgot to also include that paragraph

1 that the debt instruments, which the Debtor signed, in favor
2 of Macquarie do not contain a waiver of marshaling. And 3 it's the Debtor's claim for marshaling that we think needs
4 to be investigated because this lender has its secured 5 claims against non-debtor assets that have value and we 6 believe we need the opportunity to determine whether a 7 meritorious marshaling claim exists and we haven't had a 8 chance to complete that.

9 They also take great pains to belittle our desire 10 to investigate whether sensitive consolidations 11 (indiscernible) before we can support releases of the non-12 debtor affiliates because we like you can't find any benefit 13 to the Debtor's Estate of releasing the non-debtor 14 affiliates. And they're activity opposing our efforts to 15 get any discovery from these non-debtor affiliates and we'll 16 take that up on the Motion to Quash later this morning.

17 We already -- the examination we've got and the 18 documents that they've given us already confirms that 19 evidence of at least four or five of the -- I think it's a 20 seven-part nonexclusive list of factors that puts courts and 21 the Fifth Circuit (indiscernible) in considering 22 (indiscernible) exist here and that's why we've been 23 stiff-armed in getting any documents from the non-debtors
24 through -- from the same people that own and run the Debtor 25 that also run those non-debtors.

1 We think it's unwise to conditionally approve the 2 Disclosure Statement today, Your Honor, and instead just ask
3 us to include the letter. We think it is better to adjourn 4 the hearing for four weeks and let us have a chance to 5 complete and come back to the Court and present to the Court 6 what we think would be appropriate and additional 7 information from the results of our investigation in the 8 Disclosure Statement. And if the Debtor doesn't agree to it 9 and the Court doesn't think it should be included, we will 10 provide that information to the customers and to the 11 creditors in the case.

12 Your Honor, the Local Rules complex cases in the 13 Southern District in paragraph 29, the one that deals with 14 cash collateral and financing orders, that contain a release 15 of claims against lenders or other third parties by the 16 Debtors, Local Rules give the Committee 60 days at least 17 from the date of the Committee's formation to investigate
18 the claims. Even those this isn't a cash collateral order 19 or a financing order, it's even larger.

20 It's the Plan (indiscernible) that they're 21 seeking to confirm and they're not giving us at least 60
22 days. Sixty days from the time this Committee was formed 23 would take you to May 30. That's roughly four weeks from 24 today. We think that's the appropriate solution for where 25 we find ourselves today. They made I think good faith

1 efforts to add in response especially to ERCOT's objection
2 this general language to try to beef up the Disclosure 3 Statement, but it's woefully inadequate with respect to any 4 analysis of the potential value of the claims that may exist
5 against the parties that are being released. We think by 6 omission they haven't done that investigation and summarily
7 said, "They just don't exist. This is a unique but simple 8 case and we don't think any causes of action exist."

9 Just let us do our job. We may agree, but we're 10 not there yet and, in fact, we think there are some 11 potentially meritorious claims.

12 Postponing this to be approved on the 30th and 13 then go out at the end of the May rather than at the 14 beginning of May we don't think is an unrealistic or 15 inappropriate request. All of the potential confirmation 16 objections that we have that we laid out initially in our 17 disclosure statement objection certainly are more 18 appropriate to be brought before the Court at the 19 Confirmation Hearing, but we don't think it's the right 20 thing to do to approve the Disclosure Statement today as 21 amended and then just give us a short period of time to add 22 several-page letter explaining our concerns.

23 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Gibbs.

24 MR. GIBBS: So it's a bit of a modification to 25 what you were suggesting, Your Honor. Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Thank you. Ms. Spigel?

2 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you, Your Honor. We have -- 3 the Debtor has been tried to work with the Committee 4 consensually. We have a very different view of the 5 situation. We believe that we have produced all of the 6 responsive documents of their document requests with respect 7 to non-debtor affiliates. We told them that would work with 8 them, but they wanted to have a (indiscernible). We have 9 produced documents in the Debtor's possession related to 10 non-debtor affiliates.

11 With respect to Macquarie, the idea of 12 marshaling, first of all, is a very hard claim to make, but 13 let's just say that they could make it. Then if they were 14 able to do it, the affiliates would have a claim against the 15 Debtor, step into the shoes and be the secured creditor 16 unless they could prove some sort of inequitable conduct and 17 there is no inequitable conduct here. We ended up in 18 bankruptcy of the unprecedented crisis. So while we 19 understand that the Committee wants to try to come up with 20 claims to try to get additional value here, if the 21 additional value -- if there's no claims, there's no 22 additional value. And we have been cooperative. There's 23 thousands of documents that have been given to the Debtor -- 24 I'm sorry, the Committee.

25 When we talk about the cash collateral rule,

1 putting aside that that is not applicable here, there are 2 plenty of cases where plans are filed on the first day and 3 are confirmed within a reasonable time period. The Local 4 Rules are a guideline and we understand that, but that 5 doesn't mean that Your Honor doesn't have the ability to 6 allow this case or any other case frankly to be on a 7 different timeline.

8 I think the biggest issue here is that we're 9 forgetting that there's very little money in the Estate. If 10 you look at the budget, there's $900,000 projected on a case
11 basis to be in the Estate at the end of June. That doesn't 12 account for the $380,000 that the Committee has spent to-13 date and that doesn't include either the Committee's 14 (indiscernible) for May or June.

15 Allowing 60 days essentially means that the 16 Committee could look into claims, which we believe obviously 17 because it's in the Disclosure Statement that we believe it, 18 have no merit and (indiscernible) end up in a chapter 7 and 19 we are trying to avoid that situation. And so while we 20 understand that the Committee has -- would like to 21 investigate claims and that's fine, we don't object to that 22 investigation, and certainly they continue -- they can 23 continue that investigation for the next four or five weeks
24 before confirmation, we don't believe that the Disclosure 25 Statement certainly should be delayed as a result of that.

1 The idea that there are claims here we have 2 looked into and, as you noted, we don't think that 3 (indiscernible) certainly could represent different non-4 debtor affiliates because we would be disinterested. We 5 looked into those claims and we don't believe that they have 6 any merit. Again that's fine for the Committee to do their 7 investigation. We're not saying don't do it. And we do 8 believe that we gave them documents, but we don't believe 9 that there should be -- and we do think it's 10 (indiscernible). We have totally different views of what is 11 going on in this case. We are willing to provide them an 12 opportunity to put information in the Disclosure Statement 13 and we have asked them many times if they wanted to include 14 information and they haven't.

15 And so the idea to kick these cases, then we're 16 going to end up administratively insolvent and I don't think 17 that is in the best interest of any of the stakeholders and 18 I don't think that that is the Committee fulfilling its 19 fiduciary duties to its constituents.

20 THE COURT: Thank you. Let's move to the Motion
21 to Quash.

22 Who's going to represent the non-debtor -- as I 23 understand it, you're telling me you don't need motion to 24 quash against the Debtors because you've produced, whatever 25 documents you have already been produced. The Motion to 1 Quash under that statement would be moot as to the Debtors.

2 So all I'm worried about, I think, are the non-debtor 3 affiliates.

4 Why shouldn't the non-debtor affiliates --

5 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor --

6 THE COURT: -- respond to the requests?

7 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, my partner,
8 John Lawrence, is going to be responding to you with respect
9 to the Motion to Quash.

10 THE COURT: Thank you. Let me get that line
11 added in. I see we have a 214.

12 MR. LAWRENCE: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor.
13 John Lawrence, on behalf of Debtor. And, I'm sorry, you 14 were unmuted. I missed your question you asked.

15 THE COURT: Oh, I apologize. Ms. Spigel says
16 everything that the Debtors have that's been requested has 17 been produced, which then makes the Motion to Quash moot as 18 to the Debtors. I don't understand why the non-debtor
19 affiliates shouldn't similarly produce what they have. I 20 don't know why we're quashing this as to the non-debtor
21 affiliates and I don't know why the quash as to the Debtors 22 isn't not moot.

23 MR. LAWRENCE: Well, let me make one 24 clarification. Just what the non-debtor -- sorry. What the 25 Debtor has produced or the Debtor agreed to produce on Day

1 One and has told the Committee consistently they would 2 produce is all documents in the Debtor's possession that 3 relate to the non-debtor affiliates so long as those 4 documents also relate to the Debtor in some way. So what 5 has been produced by the Debtor would not include every 6 document related to non-debtors. It does absolutely include 7 every document that they have requested of the Debtor that 8 relates to non-debtors that has any sort of connection or 9 relationship between the Debtor and the non-debtor. And so 10 that is still (indiscernible), Your Honor.

11 And maybe let me explain to you our theory of why
12 that makes sense. Before I do that, (indiscernible) step 13 back so I can say I think all (indiscernible) cases like 14 this are import for making arguments about things about 15 things like fairness and justice and that is (indiscernible) 16 what is at issue in every case, right? But here I think the 17 reason for the Motion to Quash -- and this relates to Ms.
18 Spigel' arguments on the Disclosure Statement as well -- is 19 something different. It's really -- it sort of turn on 20 investments, right. It's diminishing returns. And we have 21 nothing to hide. What we can't do -- we can't afford to do 22 is to waste all the Estate's assets on chasing rabbits that 23 don't exist and so let me --

24 THE COURT: Yeah, but as to the non-debtor
25 affiliates, the Estate shouldn't spend 10 cents producing

1 for the non-debtor affiliates. That's a non-debtor
2 affiliate expense.

3 What do I care about them spending money?

4 MR. LAWRENCE: Because the Committee will then 5 spend money on that work. That is the issue.

6 THE COURT: I understand the Committee's going to 7 spend money on it. But your firm will spend zero on 8 producing from non-debtor affiliates. And the Committee
9 only gets paid if their work was reviewed in retrospect
10 likely -- I forget the exact wording out of the current 11 Fifth Circuit standard, but likely to produce beneficial 12 results.

13 MR. LAWRENCE: Well, I -- without prejudging
14 future requests for fees, I would say it would be difficult 15 for me to imagine a viable objection to having -- their 16 having reviewed documents after Your Honor as ordered us to 17 produce them. So I hear you, I think --

18 THE COURT: Oh, I'll make that real easy.

19 Mr. Gibbs, if I allow you to do this, I am not 20 saying that what you want to do was a reasonable expenditure
21 of your time or money. It's your choice and your risk.
22 We're not changing that because of the Motion to Quash and I
23 don't think you expect me to; is that correct?

24 MR. GIBBS: I absolutely don't expect you to. I
25 know what Pro-Snax says and I am --

1 THE COURT: I guess it's -- yeah, the aftermath
2 of Pro-Snax. I forget what that case is, right.

3 MR. GIBBS: Yeah, me too. I just always remember 4 Pro-Snax, but we are --

5 THE COURT: Bad memories last longer than good 6 ones, Mr. Gibbs.

7 (Laughter.)

8 MR. GIBBS: I think that's right. We will 9 undertake that risk. We believe that what we're doing is 10 not only warranted, but it's necessary and it's appropriate 11 and we'll defend our pre-application at the appropriate 12 time.

13 But I think Your Honor's question of Mr. Lawrence
14 is absolutely accurate. Why should it matter to the Debtor 15 if the Committee wants to get information from the non-16 debtors? It's not a burden on the Debtor's Estate to have 17 Debtor's counsel defend that effort.

18 THE COURT: Go ahead, Mr. Lawrence. I'm sorry to 19 interrupt. I don't think that that -- I didn't want anybody
20 to misunderstand that me authorizing them to do something 21 means what they've asked to be authorized to is reasonable 22 because I don't know what information they have. I no way 23 of judging the reasonableness today and wouldn't preclude a 24 determination that this was an unreasonable effort of their 25 part in retrospect.

1 MR. LAWRENCE: Understood, Your Honor, and thank 2 you. It's really the same basic point, Your Honor, which is 3 that based on the Rule 2004 requests that currently exist,
4 we're talking about the Committee taking discovery from 14
5 more entities, 14 separate entities. They have also said 6 they want to take discovery from the six directors and 7 officers. We're talking about more than 20 targets of 8 investigation. It is an expense issue. At bottom it's an 9 expense issue. And it's a what is needed for the 10 investigation, right? Rule 2004 is broad but not limitless.
11 It's their burden -- it is their burden to show there's good 12 cause for the request.

13 And if I can, Your Honor, explain why we don't 14 believe there is good cause to broaden the discovery beyond 15 what's already been produced? The Committee has said -- and 16 it makes sense -- they are doing an investigation, right?
17 They are doing an investigation and they want to know 18 whether the releases are appropriate and that they want to 19 know does the Debtor have claims against other parties? And 20 Macquarie -- and those documents and others.

21 Does the Debtor have claims against its non-22 debtor affiliates? That's their question. If I'm asked, as 23 a lawyer, my client to determine whether or not they have 24 claims against somebody else, where do I look? I look at my 25 client's files -- and in particular I look at my client's

1 files that relate to my client's relationship with those 2 entities that they might want to sue. We have given them
3 that information. We have given them the information they 4 would need to determine whether or not there are claims or 5 are viable claims against the other entities.

6 If they determine ultimately there are viable 7 claims, could they then seek additional information from 8 those targets? Potentially. That's not where we are today.
9 Where we are today is the question of whether or not they 10 need discovery from like 20 more people including entities 11 to determine whether or not the Debtor has claims against 12 those people.

13 And while Your Honor obviously has to right to 14 deny the requests in the future, the cash burn in this 15 case -- we're going to run out of cash before we get to the 16 request. It makes sense to limit the discovery to what is 17 needed to do our jobs. We understand their jobs and respect 18 their jobs, we understand their duties and their duty is to 19 investigate whether they have claims right now. And what we 20 have given them is what is reasonable, whether or not they 21 have those claims. That is (indiscernible) argument, Your 22 Honor, is that anything beyond that is something that is not 23 necessary to determine whether or not they have these 24 claims.

25 We have (indiscernible) we've offered

1 consistently to work with them. When we conferred with them
2 on these issues on the 16th of April, we said, "Let's start 3 with this. Do you want to start with this idea I told Your 4 Honor today? If you have more questions about individual 5 entities, let us know." We've been doing that. We've given 6 them more information about certain specific entities.
7 We've done that formally and informally through discussions 8 with the financial advisor and otherwise and that's what we 9 want to continue doing.

10 We think it makes the most sense for the parties
11 to continue working cooperatively through this. We don't 12 think there's more they need, but if they can give us more 13 specific requests of why they need we'll give it to them, if 14 we think it's appropriate. In their objection itself, they 15 listed two things that they said they needed related to the 16 non-debtor affiliates. I reached immediately and I said, 17 "You want these? We'll give them to you." We gave it to 18 them.

19 It is (indiscernible) so not appropriate for them
20 to just start off searching for documents related to 20 21 different entities without being able to connect any of 22 those entities to a claim from the Debtor at this point.

23 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Gibbs, I want you to 24 respond to one issue, which is whether with respect to your 25 requests to the Debtors, he is saying that they shouldn't

1 have to turn over to you material about a non-debtor entity
2 that is unrelated to the Debtors. That seems like a pretty 3 rational line to draw.

4 Do you have any problem with that line?

5 MR. GIBBS: No, I don't, Your Honor, and I think 6 it's kind of a much ado about nothing. We asked for the 7 Motion to Quash to be heard today because of the fact that 8 the Debtor was pursuing approval of the Disclosure Statement 9 today and asking to have a plan go out for vote today before 10 we've had a chance to complete our investigation, and where 11 we acknowledge that the Debtor has been forthcoming and 12 responding to our document requests, they've gone us a lot 13 of pages and a number of documents and we're dutifully 14 reviewing them and they have given us information in the 15 possession of the Debtor related to non-debtors, but there 16 are a number of non-debtors that are also guarantors or co-17 makers of the debt to Macquarie and some of them have 18 pledged assets. And there are -- there's an overlap of the 19 ownership and overlap of the officer and directors.

20 And the targeted information that we will be 21 wanting from non-debtors we think is related to -- they're 22 related to the Debtor because they're either co-obligors or 23 guarantors of Debtor's obligations and their assets are 24 being used by the Debtor and we think it's -- the nexus is 25 clear and the appropriateness of doing that discovery is

1 also entirely clear.

2 So saying 20 entities and 14 entities and six
3 people, while as I understand it they've removed the release 4 from three of the six officers and directors in their 5 Amended Plan so that sort of cut that number in half. And 6 there's a number of shell corporations that have -- we 7 understand have no assets and are related to non-debtor
8 affiliates but not related in particular to the Debtor's 9 operations. It's really a couple of debtors and its direct 10 and indirect parent -- excuse me -- a couple of non-debtors 11 and their common direct and indirect parents. So it's three 12 or four non-debtor entities all of whom are obligated to 13 Macquarie some of whom have pledged assets to secure their 14 obligations to Macquarie that we're -- we need to focus on.

15 THE COURT: All right. Here's what we're going 16 to do today: with respect to the request to conditionally
17 approve the Disclosure Statement, for the reasons I've gone 18 through, I don't think that the Disclosure Statement is 19 fully ready for any conditional approval because it fails to 20 set forth the benefit to the Estate questions and I want to 21 give the Debtor an opportunity to get that done. I'm not 22 denying conditional approval at this point. I'm allowing 23 the Debtor to amend to obtain conditional approval of the 24 Disclosure Statement.

25 We're going to return for that for hearing on 1 May 20th, at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. I think it is 2 unlikely, not impossible, that the Committee will be able to 3 have further delay beyond May 20th if it doesn't then know

4 what's wrong. I know they've asked for more than that,
5 sorry. So we'll see you all on that May 20th, at 10:00 6 o'clock.

7 With respect to the Motion to Quash, I'm going to 8 ask that an amended order be uploaded by the Committee with 9 Mr. Lawrence having signed off on it that honors his request 10 as to the Debtor not having to produce information they have 11 about non-debtor affiliates that is unrelated to the Debtor.
12 That is a reasonable line to draw. And similar lines can be 13 drawn with respect to the non-debtor affiliates if there's 14 some over-expansive requests. But in general, I'm going to 15 require that the non-debtor affiliates and the directors
16 participate and respond to the discovery. I'll get you all 17 to upload an order that does that.

18 That discovery needs to commence now. If there 19 is recalcitrance in that discovery, then maybe Mr. Gibbs 20 will have some argument on the 20th that you all didn't 21 respond quickly, but I'm pleased to hear really from both 22 sides that that's not been a problem in the case. People 23 have been promptly responding to stuff so I don't expect 24 there to be a difficulty about that.

25 With respect to the ordinary course

1 professionals, which you all haven't talk about, there was 2 already a certification filed on that. I'm going to orally
3 authorize the two that aren't the -- I don't remember the 4 name of the company, the corporate communications company.
5 I'm not going to authorize that part of it today and the 6 reason I'm not is: there were pretty good objections filed 7 to that. I got it, this may be a compromise, but the 8 evidentiary Record is now totally lacking as to why I should 9 authorize the payment of the $27,000 to them and I want to 10 give the Debtors an opportunity to make that case.

11 So go ahead and pay the other two ordinary course
12 professionals in accordance with the Order on our oral order 13 on the 20th. We'll take back up whether we ought to 14 authorize the 27 -- excuse me -- I think it was 27,000 or 15 27,500 -- once there is evidentiary support that hiring a 16 corporate communications firm to do work in a liquidating 17 company post-filing makes sense. I can imagine there are 18 ways when it does and I don't mean to put this -- I don't 19 mean that to be pejorative in that wording, but I don't have 20 any of that in an evidentiary Record right now to allow me
21 to sign it. And the reason I don't is that wasn't the focus 22 of the Motion. It's the focus of what looks like a 23 compromise on the Motion and I don't want to be ruling on 24 that without a good evidentiary record.

25 That's what I intend to do today. I'm looking at

1 all the faces on Zoom and I'm by far the oldest person here,
2 so I'm going to give a little bit of advice. I think 3 simultaneously saying someone is acting in bad faith but 4 you're being cooperative and you expect them to be I think 5 is a different world to act in. Let's let people do their 6 jobs. I've got really good professionals. I think everyone 7 here is trying to do their job.

8 And I would ask that the parties try and tone
9 down the conversation a little bit. The more you tell me 10 somebody is acting inappropriately when they're doing their 11 job the less ground you're gaining with me and I would just 12 suggest from age that you listen to that one comment. If 13 you don't want to, that's okay, it's not an order, but that 14 would be my request.

15 Is there anything we need to do on the Khoury 16 adversary proceeding today?

17 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, it's Robin Spigel.

18 May I speak before you turn to the adversary
19 proceeding?

20 THE COURT: Of course, Ms. Spigel.

21 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you. Just a couple of things.
22 On the ordinary course professionals Motion, there was -- 23 part of the revised Order is -- another ordinary course
24 professional was hired by the company, Amy Stewart Law 25 Group, which a boutique insurance firm. We've --

1 THE COURT: You're right.

2 MS. SPIGEL: I think it's one of the --

3 THE COURT: You can do all of that. The only
4 part that I don't want to do is to authorize the 27 or 27-5 5 until I have an evidentiary record to support that. That's 6 the only thing I'm cutting out. You can act on the rest of 7 it.

8 MS. SPIGEL: In Mr. Fallquist --

9 THE COURT: And I am not denying that. I want 10 that to be clear. I just don't have a record to do it on.

11 MS. SPIGEL: Okay. In Mr. Fallquist's
12 declaration in response to the Committee raising the 13 (indiscernible) we did include an evidentiary basis for 14 (indiscernible) in this case. We did -- we actually --

15 THE COURT: I may have -- can you take me there?
16 Because I may have missed it.

17 MS. SPIGEL: Yeah. Give me one second if you 18 don't mind.

19 MR. SPEAKER: I think by agreement with ERCOT, 20 that declaration was not included in the evidence today but 21 I may be wrong.

22 MS. SPIGEL: It's not the First Day declaration.
23 It's the declaration of Mr. Fallquist in support of the 24 reply.

25 MR. SPEAKER: Oh, okay. My apologies.

1 THE COURT: Yeah, let me just find that. That 2 was 218.

3 MS. SPIGEL: It's (indiscernible).

4 THE COURT: It was part of 218-2, I think, right?

5 MS. SPIGEL: I only have (indiscernible) copy.
6 Is (indiscernible) on?

7 MR. SPEAKER: Yeah, that is -- I think Your Honor 8 is correct that is 218-2.

9 MS. SPIGEL: Okay.

10 THE COURT: So tell me where I would find the 11 evidentiary support on the 27,000.

12 MR. SPEAKER: It's on page 6 of the chart that's 13 behind Mr. Fallquist's declaration I believe.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. SPEAKER: Actually 697.

16 THE COURT: So this talks about 11,000.

17 Am I remembering the Order wrong with 27,000 in 18 it?

19 MR. SPEAKER: That's actually --

20 MS. SPIGEL: Go ahead, Trey.

21 MR. SPEAKER: Yeah. The 11,000 reflects net of a 22 retainer. They have about a $60,000 retainer remaining from 23 prior to the case.

24 THE COURT: Got it. I'm going to withdraw my 25 comments and I'm going to go ahead and approve the Order.

1 It's agreed to and I will sign that Order. I had missed
2 that part of it and I think that is a valid basis. In 3 essence, I'm going to interpret that to say that there's a 4 lot of litigation coming and you want people to have 5 adequate information before they decide to litigate. Seems 6 fair, the parties agreed to it. I'm not going to intervene
7 in that and I will sign the Order.

8 Thank you for clarifying that for me, Ms. Spigel.
9 I just -- I had missed that trying to read a lot of stuff 10 getting ready for the hearing. That was filed as --

11 MR. SPEAKER: Judge, I believe it's 219-1 is the 12 proposed Order.

13 THE COURT: Is it 219-1 or 219 -- yeah, 219-1.
14 Let me get that done right now.

15 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor, may I say one more 16 thing?

17 THE COURT: Of course.

18 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you. It's around
19 (indiscernible). We obviously think that (indiscernible) 20 concern then is to -- for the (indiscernible) approval of 21 the Disclosure Statement. We would I guess respectfully 22 request that either it be shortened or that we have the 23 ability to come back to Your Honor on an emergency basis.
24 I'm very worried about this case being administratively 25 insolvent and I just -- I'm just worried about it being

1 administratively insolvent and I do think that three weeks' 2 worth of discovery on various parties, even if the non-3 debtor parties are not paying -- they're paying for the 4 Committee and other -- there's other constituents that are 5 now coming out like (indiscernible) for example and I'm just 6 worried about the case becoming administratively insolvent.
7 So I just want to reserve the right to come back on a 8 shortened notice period to try to figure out if we can do 9 this quicker.

10 THE COURT: Yeah. Look I'm not going to take 11 away from the right to come back on an expedited basis or on 12 an emergency basis. I think whenever you think that's 13 appropriate, I need to trust your judgment and then read 14 what you have to say. I may not agree with it, but I should 15 trust that it's filed in good faith.

16 I very much believe in the committee process and 17 that becomes heightened in a case where your concerns are 18 that their constituency is going to less if they get to do 19 what they want to do and it doesn't hurt anybody else. You 20 will have an uphill battle telling me that they're not going 21 to cause the Estate to run out of money, which is going to 22 mean their constituents aren't going to get paid anything, 23 and there's no other adverse effect to the delay and that's 24 marginally what I'm hearing is: we might have to convert to 25 a 7, which hurts the unsecureds. It doesn't hurt anybody

1 else. They're going to get paid less because the money's 2 going to get devoted to professional fees. Hurts their 3 county, no one else. And the committee system is designed 4 by Congress to serve the interest of that constituency.

5 Now I think if you look at Marvin Isgur's record,
6 I am pretty far from a committee rubber stamp. I think I 7 turn down lots of things that committees asked me to do, but 8 I think that the process is terribly important and it's rare 9 that I don't give them an opportunity to go through the 10 process. That's why I'm doing what I'm doing.

11 I'm telling you that so that when you consider 12 whether it's worth your time to file that, you understand 13 the perspective that I am coming from. I said I think 14 almost on day one of the case but if no, like on day three 15 or four of the case -- Mr. Gibbs wasn't here yet -- that I
16 think customers who probably have no claim against Griddy 17 and who getting released should probably be pretty happy 18 with that.

19 And so I don't know that I'm even agreeing to 20 where he's going in the case. That's now what you ought to 21 be hearing on this. What you ought to be hearing is I think 22 he gets -- and don't I don't mean to steal is words -- he 23 gets to do his job and it's very important to me that he 24 gets to do his job. I'm making him move faster than he 25 wants.

1 But you are certainly free and I respect what 2 you're doing. If you need me to reconsider what I've done, 3 I'll let you deal with it. And no question that you ought 4 to do that if you think you have to.

5 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you, Your Honor. And one
6 final comment then I'll let to the adversary proceeding so
7 thank you. This is in response to the Disclosure Statement 8 and then putting aside with the Committee comes out and if 9 we put something in the Disclosure Statement not related to 10 that. Is the only other issue that Your Honor is raising is 11 related to the debtor release and putting in the information 12 related to the benefit to the Estate or were there other 13 issues? I just want to make sure that when we come back 14 that we have it properly addressed if there are other things 15 that --

16 THE COURT: That was the 600-pound gorilla for me
17 and I don't know if there was some of the more "picky" 18 comments and I hope nobody takes offense to that word but, 19 yeah, it should be fixed. I did not have a chance with the 20 latest version that you filed, which I think was filed late 21 yesterday, to compare word for word to see, but I looked at 22 that big issue and thought that we -- the big complaint that 23 you're getting in the case is: you're doing a lot of stuff 24 for a lot of people and we can't really tell that that's the 25 best thing to do. There may be other minor issues, but

1 there will be nothing else that we wouldn't be able to 2 resolve on that day. I'll sit here and type words in if I 3 have to.

4 MS. SPIGEL: Okay.

5 THE COURT: If anybody thinks I'm missing some 6 big issue, please speak up. The big issue to me was the one 7 that I've identified.

8 (No audible response.)

9 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

10 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Thank you. I do have somebody that 12 does want to speak up and let me let them do that.

13 Mr. Jordan, good morning.

14 MR. JORDAN: Your Honor, this is Shelby Jordan.
15 I think you just unmuted my line. Is that -- can you hear 16 me?

17 THE COURT: I did and I said, "Good morning," to 18 you.

19 MR. JORDAN: Okay. I didn't hear that. Thank 20 you very much, Judge. Very quick comments. We had filed at 21 Docket No. 5 -- I'm sorry -- Docket No. 227 our Motion to 22 lift the abatement order. This has been a scramble in my 23 world, not yours, to deal with what the accommodation you 24 made to us with respect to the tort claimant's claims and 25 the nature (indiscernible) of the extent. We've addressed

1 that in Docket No. 227, but it was on file yesterday because 2 we had to file -- because I wanted to be certain my 3 objections to the Disclosure Statement didn't violate that 4 Order. And so I wanted it on file so the Court knew that we 5 were scrambling as best we could to get not only the Court's 6 questions answered, but to then assert our objections.

7 And I would simply ask this that the real
8 direction of our objections -- I hope to be heard on May 20 9 after the Court has had a fair opportunity to digest the 10 tort claimants' position as to why their claims are good.
11 What I have been so concerned about over the last 10 days is 12 that the Court's posture and position on the Griddy claims 13 though fairly understood -- I mean, I understand exactly 14 what the Court asked for. I understand that we did not 15 furnish that to the Court and were not ready to do that when 16 you asked it so it's our problem. We tried to put that 17 problem back in your court so you can either get comfort 18 with it or --

19 THE COURT: I'll set that for hearing on the 20th
20 at 10:00 o'clock with the other things, sure. I do want
21 you --

22 MR. JORDAN: All right. In the --

23 THE COURT: You need to be prepared to address 24 another issue though, which is --

25 MR. JORDAN: All right.

1 THE COURT: -- I read it pretty quickly last 2 night. I have focused on what you wrote. I don't know how 3 you have standing to worry about people who owed your 4 clients. Your clients --

5 MR. JORDAN: Well, I will address these, sir.

6 THE COURT: Yeah. You clients had notice, your 7 clients have filed proofs of claim, your clients can do what 8 they want and I don't know why you have standing to worry 9 about other potential tort claimants out there that you
10 don't represent. And so on the 20th, you'll need to deal 11 with that. You don't need to deal with it right now.

12 MR. JORDAN: All right. We'll address that in 13 connection with also the request for the tort committee that 14 we had initially pursued with, but we'll address that, Judge, 15 and address the issue -- the other issue that is 16 (indiscernible) biggest cocaine is there's a massive hole in 17 the assets of this Debtor that's nobody discussing because 18 of the nature of this claim. There is insurance. There's 19 TGL insurance that pays the proceeds typically paid. The 20 Fifth Circuit's made clear that the Debtor now has interest 21 in those proceeds and has an obligation to deal with those 22 proceeds where before the insurance carriers would ignore
23 the Debtor and those proceeds. That's the not the law 24 anymore.

25 And our problem is that when we discuss what our

1 tort claims are, I know that the Court's observations
2 weren't -- you're not denied our claim. I mean, we're 3 not -- we realize we're not in the claims allowance process,
4 but it's being treated that way and that's the thing that I 5 want to express to the Court that there's -- if you just 6 word search the Second Amended Plan and Disclosure Statement 7 the word "tort" comes up three times. And it's two times in 8 releases that they propose. They want releases from torts.
9 But it also comes up in one section where it says "and other 10 torts." That's it.

11 There's no -- they reference that all insurance
12 is going to be preserved. (Indiscernible) about the nature 13 of the insurance, the type of insurance, what it would 14 cover, does it cover tort claims? And so that has been our 15 dilemma of getting our word to the Court under the terms of 16 the type of objection we have, which we will argue and deal 17 with on the 20th and so I'm not trying to do it here.

18 But I just want to point out to the Court that 19 there is a complete set of assets that are -- that whose 20 policy belongs to the Debtor and who the Debtor now has 21 under the OGA (phonetic) Fifth Circuit case a cognizable 22 interest that it should be exercising its fiduciary 23 obligations to, for instance, tell the insurance companies
24 that there are tort claims. Now we can't do that now 25 because those policies belong to the Debtor. The automatic

1 stay probably prevents us from notifying the insurance 2 companies that we have claims.

3 And so my concern is that those queues have 4 been -- there's not addressed anywhere in any disclosure, 5 there's no discussion of even tort claims in any disclosure
6 and those are the times -- those are the concerns of time
7 limits that are running with respect to the tort claims.
8 We'll address all that then on the 20th.

9 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Jordan. I will say 10 you certainly asserted tort claims whether they are valid or 11 not valid and I would be really surprised if insurance
12 companies hadn't been notified about that, but I'll let you 13 talk to the Debtors to see. You've asserted claims. They 14 may be ridiculous and they may be fantastic, but you've 15 asserted them and I would be pretty surprised if people 16 didn't notify their insurance. We'll do with that on the 17 20th.

18 Let's me on now to the adversary --

19 MS. SPIGEL: Your Honor?

20 THE COURT: I'm sorry, go ahead.

21 MS. SPIGEL: I'm sorry, Your Honor. I just heard
22 Mr. Jordan say a couple of things and I just need clarity.
23 So on the 20th, he mentioned a motion for a tort committee.

24 Did I misunderstand that?

25 THE COURT: He had originally asked --

1 MR. JORDAN: May I speak --

2 THE COURT: -- for a separate committee --

3 MS. SPIGEL: Okay.

4 THE COURT: -- and at the hearing that we had 5 probably three weeks ago, I said I didn't even understand 6 how they had tort claims because you all didn't do --

7 MS. SPIGEL: Understood.

8 THE COURT: -- you had no authority to do it. I 9 didn't deny it and he had the right to bring it back up 10 again. He's bringing it back up.

11 MR. JORDAN: Actually, Your Honor, I didn't bring 12 it back up. I'm sorry to interrupt. I did bring it back up 13 with the idea that it will be heard on the 20th. We 14 probably are not going to ask it be heard on the 20th. In 15 fact let me just say unless that change -- unless something 16 changes drastically based on what the Committee and the 17 Debtors do, we're not going to ask for it be heard on the 18 20th.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

20 MS. SPIGEL: Thank you for clarification.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Potts? Let me go ahead and 22 activate Mr. Potts' line.

23 What are we doing in the adversary proceeding, 24 Mr. Potts?

25 MR. POTTS: Hi, Judge. Can you hear me?

1 THE COURT: I can you find. Good afternoon -- or 2 good morning.

3 MR. POTTS: Good morning. We're working really 4 closely with the Committee and we filed a stipulation with 5 the Debtor on March 31st and I think we're asking the Court
6 today to just extend that, reserving all rights, reserving 7 our ability to reopen that litigation at a time we deem 8 beneficial, but at this time, I think we're in agreement 9 with the Debtor that things should stay as they are.

10 THE COURT: Let me ask you and the Debtor this:
11 if we make a docket entry that says, "This adversary 12 proceeding is abated. Any party-in-interest may move to 13 terminate the abatement at any time," is that what you're 14 asking me to do?

15 MR. JORDAN: Yes, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Any complaint about that, Ms. Spigel, 17 or whoever's going to take the lead on that for you?

18 MR. LAWRENCE: Your Honor, John Lawrence. I'll 19 take that on behalf of the Debtor. We agree with that, with 20 Mr. Potts said and what Your Honor suggested as the 21 solution.

22 THE COURT: We'll do that. We'll make that 23 docket entry and we'll no other action in the adversary
24 proceeding.

25 MR. POTTS: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: We'll see you all on the 20th maybe
2 earlier if a motion gets filed. I'm not going to set
3 another hearing right now. I will tell you all that I'm 4 here all month so between now and the 20th, you can get my 5 attention pretty easily and I'll be in Chambers every day, 6 but expect to see you on the 20th.

7 And, Mr. Gibbs, you should get in gear.

8 MR. GIBBS: Thank you, Judge.

9 THE COURT: Thank you. We are in adjournment.

10 (The parties thank the Court.)

11 (Hearing adjourned at 10:38 a.m.)
